EMS Europe Announces 2025 Congress

EMS Europe has announced it will hold its next congress in Stockholm, Sweden in 2025

Since their first conference held in Copenhagen in 2016, EMS Europe has put the spotlight on prehospital emergency care. Next year's congress will offer unique opportunities for learning and collaboration with colleagues from around the world.

EMS2025 is hosted by the European Association of EMS, the Stockholm region and EMS services of Stockholm, together with the Swedish Resuscitation Council. EMS2025 offers a forum for EMS professionals from around the world to come together to share their latest research, best practices, and innovations in prehospital emergency care.

The congress will feature a variety of presentations, workshops, and networking opportunities.

In addition to the scientific program, the social programme offers the unique opportunity to dine banquet-style in Stockholm's City Hall (home to the Nobel Prize Ceremony).

Patrik Söderberg, Chief Medical Officer for Stockholm prehospital emergency care said "We are thrilled that EMS Europe have chosen to host their next congress in the beautiful city of Stockholm, which is at it's very best in early summer. EMS2025 promises to deliver an exciting scientific programme led by world-leaders from Emergency Medical Services."

EMS2025 will continue its enduring theme of "It takes a system to save a life" with the 2025 congress placing a spotlight on the safety of EMS colleagues and the patients they serve across the globe.

EMS2025 will be held in the city centre at the Waterfront congress centre in beautiful Stockholm, over 3 days from Monday 2nd of June to Wednesday the 4th of June 2025. Early bird tickets will be available online soon.
